

MICROSOFT TEAMS SLACK COMMANDS

What are slack commands?

A slack command is a short typed phrase, preceded by a slack (/), which causes a specific action within an app. They're meant to make some everyday functions quick and easy to activate, without your hands leaving the keyboard.

The most common slack command is likely `/away`, which sets your status to Away. They can do much more than that, however! When used in a chat app, slack commands let you join a channel, invite other users into a channel, mark yourself as away/busy/available, and dozens of other things.

/activity view someone's activity

/available changes your teams status to "available"

/away changes your teams status to "away"

/busy changes your teams status to "busy"

/call initiate a call

/dnd changes your teams status to "do not disturb"

/files see your recent files

/goto go to a certain team or channel

/help Get help with Teams

/join join a team

/keys view keyboard shortcuts

/mentions See all your mentions (handy if your teams channels are really busy!)

/org view an org chart (yours or someone elses)

/saved view your saved list

/status set your status

/unread see all of your unread activity

/whats new check out what's new in Teams

/who Ask Who (a new app that lets you search for people by name or topic) a question